Thursday, January 21, 3 pm.

Price: $15 per person.

Impetus for tomorrow's interior design at imm cologne 2010

For the fifth time, young and creative designers present fresh ideas and new concepts at the imm cologne within the framework of the D³ Design Talents. Hall 3.1 will be the platform for young and independent designers, whose inspiring and visionary concepts for tomorrow's design will surely fascinate the audience again in 2010.

Made up of the three sections D³ Contest, D³ Professionals and D³ Schools, the event is convincingly demonstrating every year that surprises are still possible and that there is no lack of fresh and new ideas.

[D³] Contest

All students and graduates from design colleges, who received their degree not longer than three years ago, can hand in their designs to participate in the international D³ Contest. The 30 best contributions will be shown in a special exhibition.

[D³] Professionals

In the section D³ Professionals young, independent designers and design studios get the chance to present their concepts to a broad audience at an own stand.

[D³] Schools

D³ Schools is a platform for universities offering degree programs in the field of product design, interior design and architecture. They here can introduce their programs as well as outstanding students' projects.

Be part of it! Join the special 1 hour English guided tour of this fascinating segment of imm cologne.
